

Our Ambition

What we offer supports children's individual development and helps them to become responsible, social and capable. Capable means being able to manage actively lots of different situations and demands. In order to reach this aim we concentrate our daily work on the following three zones of competence:

• Self-Competence

- Building self-confidence and self-assurance
- Developing decision making and operating capacity
- Discovering, articulating and following interests
- Observing and telling feelings and wants
- Creating identity
- Developing ideals and moral concepts

• Social Competence

- Noticing structures and rules and following them
- Finding the proper place in the society
- Establishing relationships and networking
- Learning how to treat each other respectfully
- To be able to express opinion and deal with conflicts

• Professional Competence

- Using all senses to orientate oneself
- Development of proper behavior in the environment
- Obtaining skills, that are useful for everyday life
- Noticing chronology, structures and rules and being able to transfer them to other situations
- Dealing with the natural, technical and cultural environment, being curious and establishing understanding
- Learning and practicing how to handle different materials and tools

The chief art is to make all the children have to do or learn, sport and play, too.
